How to Keep a Variety of Different Orchids Happy

Brian Hench

Program Starts at 7:00 p.m.

Monday, September 22, 2014

Brian Hench is a member of the South Coast Orchids Society. He is one of our better plant growers as evidenced by his displays at our Ribbon Judging table, and he has received American Orchid Society awards.

Brian will talk to us about the means and methods he uses to keep a variety of orchids of different genera and species thriving in the same location. He will discuss how he grows his plants and creates various microclimates within the yard and the greenhouse so that the greatest variety of plants can be grown.

Brian has built several greenhouses over the years and done it by himself, including electrical and gas heaters. He is familiar with foundations, material, bench design, heating, ventilation, and humidity control.

President's Message

I would like to thank Curtis Gean our speaker at our August meeting for coming all the way from Sanger to give us his excellent talk on Laelia's. I know the 240 mile drive very well because my parents lived in Fresno and I still make several trips there to visit my brother and sister. Thanks again Curtis. For all our members who support the society by coming to the monthly meetings you are what keeps the society going.

Coming up next are the two most important events for continued success of our society 1) the annual orchid auction and 2) new officers for 2015 SCOS Board. For the auction Mong Noiboonsook is the auction Chairman and he will need all our members help to continue to make it a success, so if you can help please contact Mong. Last but not least we are looking for members who would like to serve on the SCOS Board, it is an important to get new members involved to keep the society strong. If you have any interest or know of someone who you think might be interested contact Janell Shuck or me.

Hope to see everyone at the meeting this September as it will be the last meeting before the auction.

John Reyes
